Prizes for High School Scholars — Lincoln's Birthday — Off for Florida — Clubs and Meetings — Life in Vermont.

Just now the pupils of the Center school are very busy with their mid-winter examinations. These have been in progress for a number of days and thus far prove to be very satisfactory. The teachers are giving considerable attention to the program for the coming celebration of the 100th birthday of Abraham Lincoln. There will be special exercises in each grade suitable to the comprehension of the scholars. Another matter which is interesting the scholars is the competition for the prizes on Colonial subjects which have been offered by the Connecticut Society of the Colonial Dames, who have their headquarters in New Haven. For scholars of the High school they give three prizes of twenty, ten and five dollars each for the best compositions on any one of the following subjects: "Colonial Ships and Some of Their Passengers"; "Thomas Hooker and Some Incidents in His Journey Through the Wilderness"; "Indian Trading Posts"; "The Founding of Philadelphia and William Penn"; and "The Colonial Boy Goes Hunting." The subjects chosen by this school are the second, the fourth and the last. These essays are to contain not more than 1,500 and not less than 1,200 words. All the essays are to be sent before the first of March to Mrs. James K. Thatcher, 77 Main Street, New Haven. A special prize of $15 is offered by a member of the committee for an essay on "Colonial Gardens and the Flowers our Great Grandmothers Grew." A certificate of merit will be sent to each of the pupils taking a prize, as also to 12 others whose compositions show thoughtful intelligent study. Among the members of the committee is the name of Mrs. James O. Wright of Fairfield.

Tomorrow, J. Henry Blakeman will go to New York from whence he sails for Florida where he intends to spend a month with his brother. This is not Mr. Blakeman's first visit to Florida. He is glad to escape the winds, cold waves, and sudden changes of temperature, which make it difficult for one to keep in good health on the shores of the Housatonic.

Members of the Sons of the Revolution living in town have received invitations for the big banquet which is to be given on Washington's birthday at the Stratfield in Bridgeport.

Mr. and Mrs. James Robert Coe are rejoicing over the birth of a little daughter. After all the young men who came down to canvass for a New York daily succeeded better than some people thought they would. What with the help of a couple of chromos, and taking subscriptions by the week at 12 cents a week they managed to pick up 18 subscribers for four months each. This amounts to a total of about $32.

While it is again the regulations of the post office department for postage stamps on a letter to lap, there is no rule prohibiting persons from licking them if they wish.

Your William Topping, who is now ill at the Bridgeport hospital, was one of the route boys to carry newspapers for Mr. Hansen. He had recently secured a position at the Locomobile works in Bridgeport. His attack of appendicitis came on very suddenly and an immediate operation was necessary. There has been a vast amount of illness in the Topping family recently, and much sympathy is expressed for them.

The members of the Bethany Gospel Mission have been to attend the services now being held at the Summerfield M. E. church. Those who go over this evening will leave the Mission at 7 o'clock. All will be welcome.

Miss Stella Park is now employed at the Howland Dry Goods store. Samuel Dickinson is home from a recent visit to Brooklyn.

The Camera Club will hold another meeting tomorrow evening. Next Sunday Rev. Mr. Eggleston contemplates exchanging pulpits with Rev. Mr. Lounsbury of Southport. He will tell the good people of this town about Bulgaria where he was once stationed as a missionary.

Clinton is recovering from her recent painful and severe illness. A man named John Albrecht, Jr., of the town, claims to have been cured by the new process called psychopathy. After a few passes he was able to throw away his crutches.

The Hayfort people meet this evening. Two or three ladies from town went over to Bridgeport yesterday to attend the Art League pink tea. It was a delightful day and all who attended had the usual good time.

Jerome May has been entertaining Mr. Sumner. While Jane Eyre of the billboards is not exactly the "girl from Stratford," a number of locals propose to take a five cent trip to the city to see how she comes out in the play.

W. L. Parrott is said to be on the sick list. The following gentlemen are officers of the Ancient Order of Hibernians in the town: President, Patrick Cullen; vice president, Timothy Ahern; recording secretary, Edward Cullen; financial secretary, James Cullen.

The baseball club held a meeting last evening to complete arrangements for the ball on Saturday night. It is thought there may be an out of town speaker Monday evening, when the Okechuks have another one of their infrequent meetings. Possibly Judge Perry of Southport will come on to address the Red Men. The local mandolin club will furnish the music.

A fine lot of Washington birthday cards have been received at the Hansen news depot.

All the Masons of St. John's lodge wish to hear a special sermon, for their particular benefit, will go to the Methodist church next Sunday evening. They will meet on the plain and part of the square.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Burritt from Waterbury, passed Sunday in town. Young Mr. Coe who has been passing a portion of the winter in a lumber camp in Vermont, near the mountain called Camel's Hump, speaks well of the people he meets in that State and the good things they have to eat.

Butter, cheese and canned fruits are all home made and of the best quality. Wood is so plentiful that the houses are kept as warm as one could wish, and now and then a haunch of venison is served, for the woods are full of deer.

All the vegetables are good, and few women can beat the housewives of Vermont in making bread, crullers, and cakes. Maple syrup for the buckwheat cakes is not a luxury, for every farmer has a sugar orchard and makes his own. Milk and eggs are rather scarce, for the hens of the Green Mountain State, as well as in Stratford and Nebraska, are on a strike for warm weather.

The Afternoon Bridge Club met yesterday on King street. If you will take Foley's Orino Laxative the bowels become regular you will not have to take purgatives constantly, as Foley's Orino Laxative positively cures chronic constipation and sluggish liver. Pleasant to take. F. B. Brill, local agent. *351

LIGHTED MATCH IN GARAGE.

Fumes from the gasoline exploded and burned James Judd, who was at work under a car at the Blue Ribbon garage yesterday afternoon. A lighted match thrown on the floor ignited the gas and the explosion followed. Judd was burned about the face and hands and was taken to a physician for treatment. No other damage was done.

David C. Peck, Wm. J. Beecher, Wm. A. Leonard, Levi C. Morris, Arthur J. Smith, Wm. H. Hubbell, Cornelius E. Taylor. Lincoln Valentine has sold his farm to Patrick Ready of Hawleyville.

Frank Blackman is the possessor of a fine Ashman heater, mail wagon now used on Route 16. The vehicle is of very neat appearance and design, the main body being white with red trimmings, and came directly from the factory at New Paris, Ohio. On a cold day, the mail carrier can sit comfortably and snugly encased with sliding doors and windows and a register at his feet which is heated by means of a small gasoline tank at the back of the wagon.
